BELKNAP CAMPUS

LOUISVILLE 8, KENTUCKY

The 1958 Thoroughbred has at last been assembled. In September and October the tables lay bare and only the click of a key in the lock was heard as the photographer went into the darkroom and out again. Every now and then there came a rap on the door by a student who realized that the Thoroughbred did come out on time last year and who now wishes to have his.

November came and half-way through the month a few editors began lining up their work, checking with the Editor and then promising to return soon to finish their copy. November passed.

Suddenly December was here and with it the realization that the deadline date was approaching. Immediately the office became filled with life: editors racing to and fro; copy pages begun, discarded, and then taken up again when no other layout seemed practicable; assignments made on picture sizes; a blinking photographer emerging from the darkroom to avow that he has never seen so much to do. Near the deadline date some editors, having finished, left while the stragglers worked feverishly on. As the last picture was completed, it was laid on the table and a sigh of relief was heard. The final page of copy was finished and all were put in envelopes and placed on the table. One lonely soul entered the room, packaged up the copy and departed with it.

Silence dominated the scene temporarily.

This pattern was repeated three times and by March we were through. We then patiently waited until May to see the fruits of our labor.

Despite the hectic last minute rushing, we all enjoyed working on the Thoroughbred. We want to thank Foote & Davies Publishing Company, especially Mr. Walter C. Dargan, for all the help we have received. Special acknowledgement goes to every member of the staff who has worked long hours to produce the finished product, the one we hope you will enjoy now and in the many years to come, the 1958 Thoroughbred.

DEDICATION

Dean Doris Nickel, a greatly respected member of the University community, was born in Brazil, Indiana. Shortly after her birth she moved to Terra Haute, Indiana, where she spent her childhood and attended Garfield High School. Dean Nickel did her undergraduate work at Indiana State College and earned her Master's Degree at Indiana University.

She taught commercial subjects in two Indiana high schools before coming to Louisville in January 1947. She taught at the University of Louisville in the Secretarial Science Department until the spring of 1953. At this time she became Assistant to the Dean, Miss Hilda Threkeld. In July 1955, she was appointed Acting Dean of Women.

Dean Nickel serves the University in many ways. She is the Faculty Advisor for Panhellenic and Woman's League; one of the Faculty Advisors for Cwens, Sophomore Woman's Honorary, and Mortarboard, Senior Woman's Honorary; Supervisor of the Woman's Building; and Secretary of the Student Aid Committee.

Our Dean Nickel has done much for the University in her many capacities. She is always willing to aid the students, giving up most of her personal life to serve the University. To the woman who can always be depended upon for advice, to the woman who is as gracious as she is attractive, and to the woman who has done so much for the sororities and other women's groups on campus, we, the students of the University of Louisville, dedicate the 1958 Thoroughbred.

OUR PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Graduates of 1958:

The graduating classes of this June will be the first in the Space Era. Our mental frontiers have been extended no less than our physical frontiers, and the times in which you step out into the world are enormously challenging and exciting.

Let us examine the challenge. We have the most majestic public school system in the world. Our standards of public education are such as no other country has ever attempted, much less ever achieved. Whether the American dream is a nightmare is a question which some people are raising, for at the very moment of our achievement the country was shocked by the tremendous feat of the Russians in the scientific area, and people today are asking with grimness as they never did before: "Is America really accomplishing its purposes, or has it failed to achieve anything but a genial conformity in an amiable vacuity?"

One thing that we are all agreed upon is that the people of this country can have any kind of schools they want to achieve any kind of specific purposes that they agree upon because the schools are a complete reflection of the wishes of the community and the long-range desires of the people. If there is a conflict between what is taught in the schools and what is wanted in the community, it is not the schools that will win. In consequence, it is of the greatest importance that you and everyone else in the United States really try to understand the educational system and determine what you think about it.

One other thing we are all agreed upon: In the face of the scientific achievements of the day it is increasingly important that we preserve a sense of balance. We can develop a guided missile; we can send a rocket to the moon; we can do any of these scientific thing. What we have not learned to do is to live together, and the big problem of our generation is not in the scientific field, but in the far broader realm of human understanding because the world inexorably moves toward unity.

When I set out to write this, I did not intend to deal with quite such big problems, but these are the kinds of things you and your children are going to be dealing with, and it is my fond hope that the education you have received here at the University has prepared you to deal with these problems. If it has, we have been successful in our goals for you.

Congratulations on your achievement and best wishes for your future happiness.

Sincerely,

Philip Der Ostor

VICE PRESIDENT

FACULTY

DR. CARL E. ADAMS

Dr. Carl Adams, Physics Department, spent the past year at Harvard on a Carnegie Fellowship in General Education, there he taught and observed methods of presenting science to non-science majors. He has also spent several summers at Brown University doing research work in his field of ultra-sonics. He is a member of the Acoustical Society of America, The American Society of Physics Teachers, the History of Science Society, and the Kentucky Academy of Science.

DR. PAUL ANGIOLILLO

Dr. Paul Angiolillo spent last year in France where he was on an experimental teacher exchange program conducted by the Fulbright Commission. He taught at the Jules Verne Lyceé in Nantes, France, as a professor of English. Dr. Angiolillo traveled in Europe previously when he received a fellowship to the International School at Geneva and remained the following year as an instructor. In 1956 he received an award by the Ministry of Education of France for furthering the French language and culture.

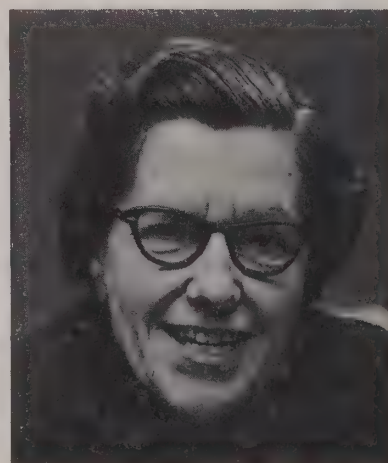

DR. JUSTUS BIER

Dr. Justus Bier was born in Bavaria and educated in Universities of Germany and Switzerland, receiving his Ph. D. Degree from the University of Zurich. He has written seven books and had a great many articles published in scholarly magazines in different countries. Dr. Bier returned to the University this fall after spending sixteen months in Europe on a Guggenheim fellowship. He accepted a visiting professorship at the Free University of Berlin, where he taught a course on his special research subject of Tillman Reimenschneider. While in Europe, he lectured extensively and did research to complete his third volume on the work of Mr. Reimenschneider.

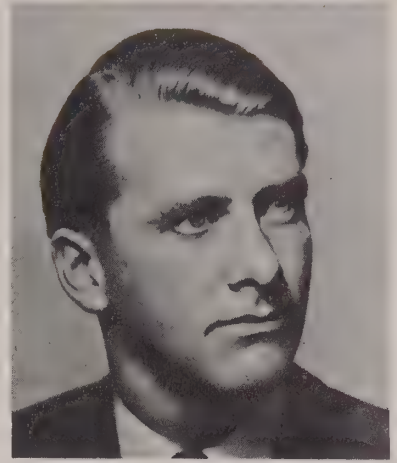

DR. MARY BURTON

Dr. Mary Burton is currently having her new book, The Letters of Mrs. Wordsworth, published in England. Dr. Burton attended Cornell University receiving her Ph. D. Degree there. She is now on the Standards Committee of the A.A.U.W.

DR. FRANK T. FALKNER

Dr. Frank T. Falkner, Assistant Professor of Child Health, Department of Pediatrics, University of Louisville School of Medicine, came here in January of 1956 from London, England, where he was connected with the Hospital for Sick Children, Great Ormond Street. He was appointed Director of Growth Section, International Children's Centre and is continuing his research at the Institute of Child Development at the Medical School. Dr. Falkner is currently a Markle Scholar.

MR. SIDNEY HARTH

Mr. Sidney Harth has added to his fame this year by becoming the runner-up in the Third Henryk Wieniawski International Violin Competition. He was the winner of the Naumburg Award and has appeared on the Telephone Hour, in New York Town Hall, and in concerts in France, Germany, Switzerland, Corsica, Tunisia, Algeria, and Austria. He is currently Concertmaster and Assistant Conductor of the Louisville Orchestra and Associate Professor on the Music School Faculty.

DR. REUEL HEMDAHL

The manuscript of research on Urban Renewal-Local Administration by Dr. Reuel Hemdahl will be published this coming summer. The Renewal Information Service of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials has published Dr. Hemdahl's study of Redevelopment Contracts. Dr. Hemdahl has been serving as Vice Chairman of the Louisville and Jefferson County Planning and Zoning Commission. He served on the committee that negotiated a merger of the Fourth Avenue and Warren Memorial Presbyterian Churches to form the Central Presbyterian Church. Dr. Hemdahl also serves in an advisory capacity to the Mayor's Office on urban renewal plans for Louisville.

DR. J. J. OPPENHEIMER

Dr. J. J. Oppenheimer, Head of the Department of Education, received an honorary Senatorship from Manshein University at its golden anniversary in recognition of work done for universities in Germany. Dr. Oppenheimer represented the University of Louisville at the five hundredth anniversary celebration of the founding of Freiburg University. In 1955 on a Rockefeller Grant, he went to Germany. Dr. Oppenheimer is very active on the Committee on Studies of American Association of Colleges of Teacher Education and the Planning Committee of the Southern Regional Education Board.

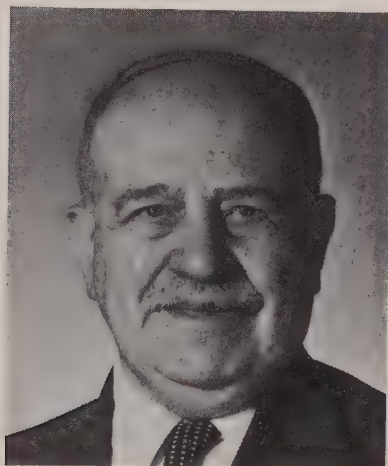

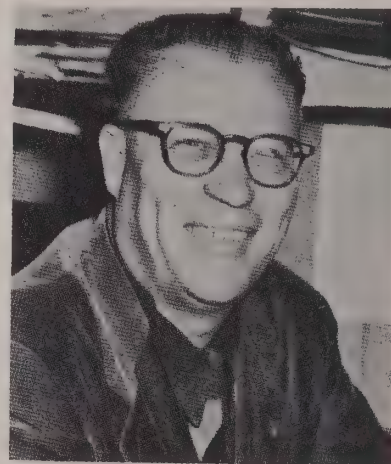

DR. HUBERT C. PIRKLE

Dr. Hubert C. Pirkle, Assistant Professor, the Department of Pathology at the University of Louisville School of Medicine, has been working on medical research on an experimental program pertaining to certain diseases which affect the heart and the blood vessels. This program is in connection with the Louisville Heart Association.

DR. DAVID W. MAURER

Dr. David Maurer, Professor of English, is known nationally for his research into linguistic problems, especially in what he calls "the argots used in criminal sub-cultures." His work with non-standard languages led to an interest in the relation of language to behavior, and he has had more than one hundred publications in his field. Two of his books have become standard texts: Narcotics and Narcotic Addiction and The Big Con—The Story of the Confidence Man and the Confidence Game. He has a great interest in exploring those areas not yet explored linguistically, and his research has been written up in many periodicals. He collaborated on a book to be released this spring, The Structure of American English, and is now working on the re-writing of H. L. Mencken's The American Language.

DR. EDMOND R. SCHLESINGER

Dr. Edmond Schlesinger, Head of the Department of Audio-Visual Education and Associate Professor of Modern Languages and Humanities at the University College, has had twenty-two films shown to the students on Friday evenings and Saturday afternoons. Ten films were shown in the fall term—three American, two English, two French, and one each from Russia, Greece, and Italy. In the spring term twelve films were shown—two from America, four from France, three from Italy, and one each from Austria, Japan, and Russia.

DR. HARVEY WEBSTER

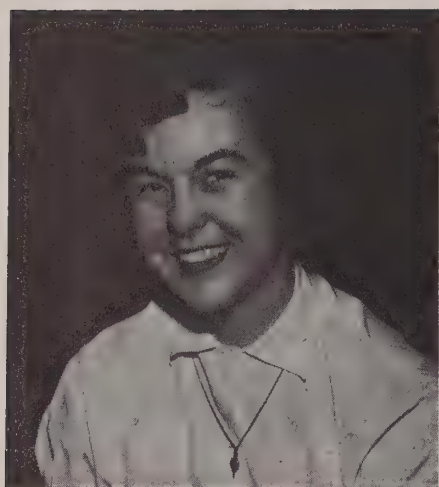

Dr. Harvey Webster was in England last year, spending most of his time in Oxford and London. He is now working on a book concerning contemporary British fiction since 1920. He writes for the Saturday Review, helps on the Views, and writes for other periodicals. He is also the author of On the Dark, Lean Plain.

FEATURES

Miss Thoroughbred

Terrie Price, Pi Beta Phi, was chosen by Powers Modeling Agency as Miss Thoroughbred this year. Every year each all-girl organization at the University of Louisville can submit a picture of one of their members to be judged. With each picture, taken this year by Patricia Studios, is sent the girls' measurements. The court is composed of the runner-ups of Mr. and Miss Thoroughbred and is pictured on the pages following Mr. Thoroughbred.

Mr. Thoroughbred

Charlie Eifler, Phi Kappa Tau, was elected as Mr. Thoroughbred by the popular women's vote on campus. Each all-male organization can elect a member to be an eligible candidate.

Neither Mr. nor Miss Thoroughbred know he or she has been chosen until it is announced at the annual Thoroughbred Dance. This year December 13 was the long-awaited date.

Homecoming Queen

Carole Raque, Chi Omega, was elected as Homecoming Queen this year. Each girl's organization on campus selected a candidate. The five girls who received the most votes in the election by University of Louisville students were then voted on by the Football team. They selected a queen and the remaining four girls formed the Court. The Homecoming Dance was held November 16.

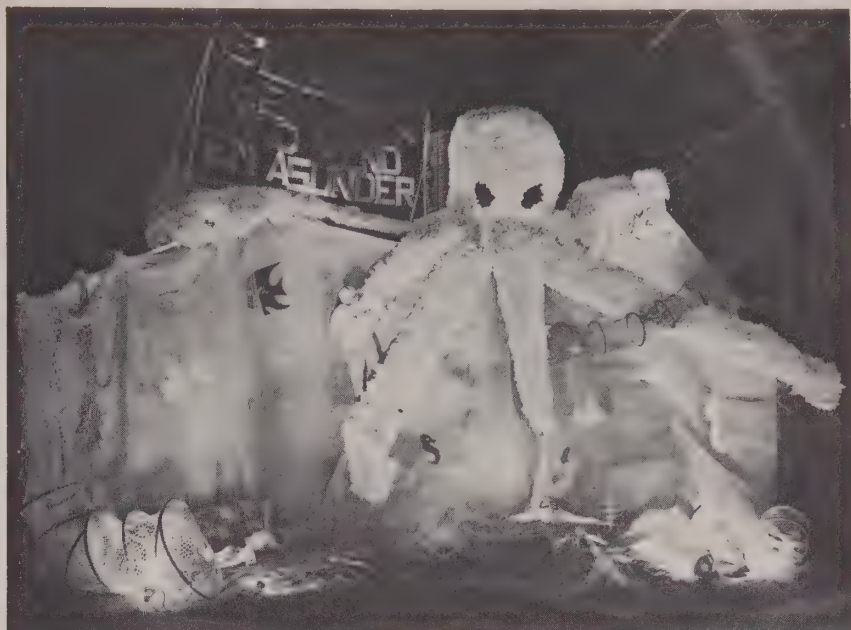

Homecoming Court

Reading left to right, the Court this year was composed of Barbara Bailey, Delta Zeta; Faye Cozart, Pi Beta Phi; Marlene Stoker, Sigma Kappa; and Betty Foster, Alpha Kappa Kappa.

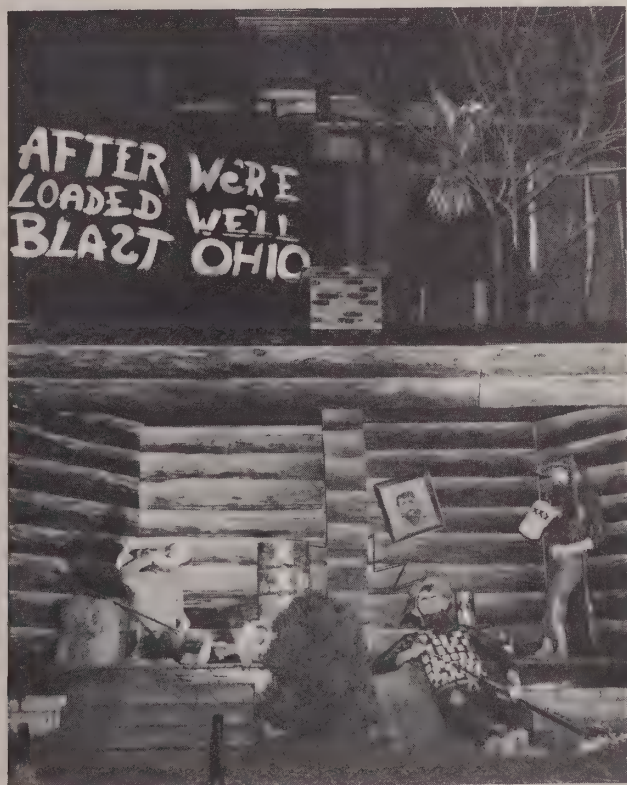

The Homecoming decorations were built around our game with Ohio University. Winning first place was Kappa Delta Sorority with the theme "We'll suction them under and rend 'em asunder" (pictured right).

Beneath is the winner in the men's division, Lambda Chi Alpha, with "Robin Hood".

Pictured at the bottom left is the second-place winner, Delta Upsilon Fraternity, with the idea "After we're loaded we'll blast Ohio."

"Ohio Falls" as a theme brought Chi Omega Sorority second place; it is found at bottom right.

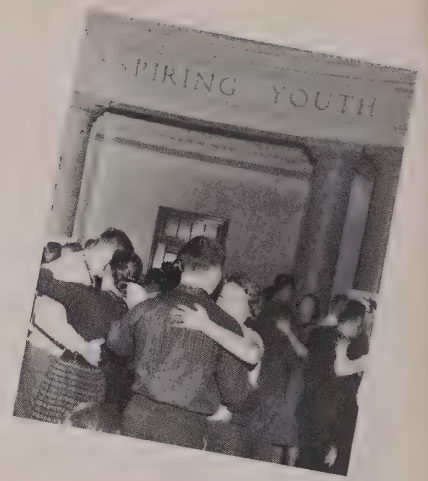

The dance on Friday night was prefaced with a bonfire . . .

. . . and a barbecue.

The dance exhibits the University's "aspiring youth."

Homecoming was a time we worked alone . . .

. . . with a friend or two . . .

. . . or in a group.

The Homecoming Dance is highlighted by Carol and Dr. Davidson's dance while students look on and photographers snap pictures.

Exchange Students

DR. G. BRODSCHI
Head of the International Center

Every year the University of Louisville International Relations Center sponsors an exchange program in which students from all over the United States are sent to Europe to work for six weeks. European countries send their students to the United States in exchange to work in jobs here. After the six weeks are over, the students are free to travel for a month to sightsee. This year all the exchange students from the University were sent to Paris, France and Zurich, Switzerland.

Foreign Students

In keeping with better international relations, the University of Louisville also has many foreign students enrolled in its schools. These students are good representatives of their countries and often stay here for more than one year. Pictured here are the new students under Dr. Bordschi's supervision.

United Nations Day was celebrated at the University by a convocation in which speeches by the above were given.

Foreign Guests

The International Dinner guests last year were treated to talks by Dr. Davidson, Thurston Morton, and Dr. Brodschi. Looking on is a member of the French Embassy who was of especial interest to the exchange students leaving for France in the next week.

The human touch is added as Dr. Davidson shows Judit and Margaret the site of the new Student Building.

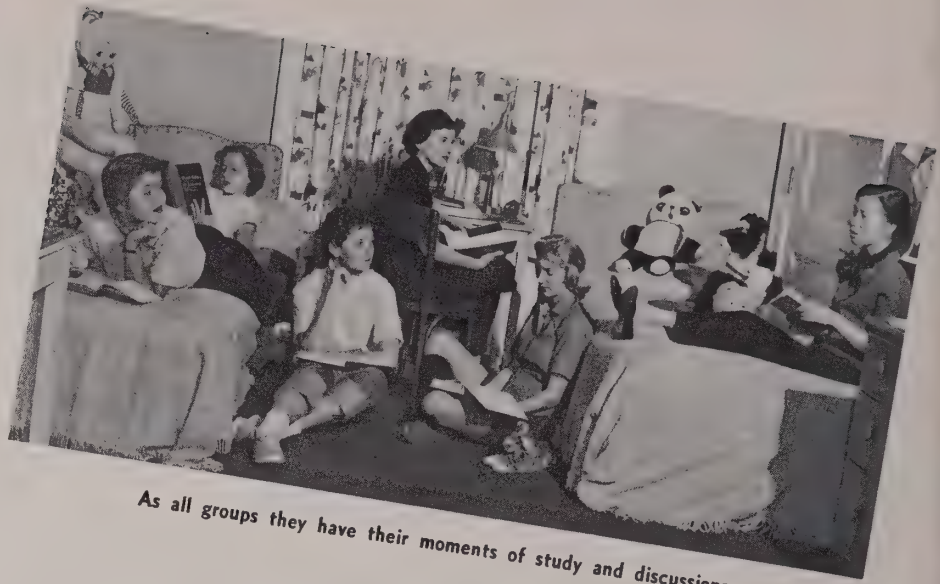

An informal conversation leads our foreign students to become great friends.

High schoolers wave goodbye to the foreign students as they leave to tour America before returning to their homeland. As usual the Thinker pensively looks on the parting.

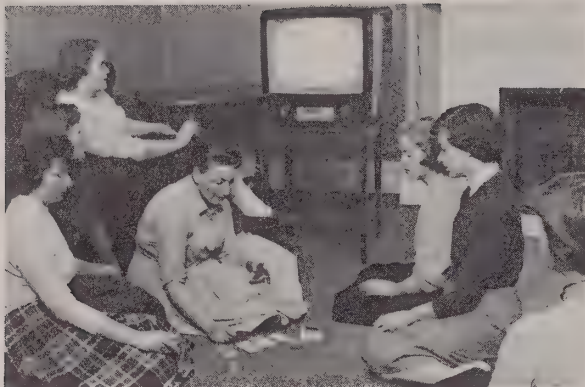

Robbins Hall

Robbins Hall is the girls dormitory on campus, housing girls in the various schools at the University. To Robbins Hall come students from all parts of the world. A Christmas party is given each year. The girls make use of the kitchen to prepare their own meals since this is truly "their home away from home."

As all groups they have their moments of study and discussions.

A rigorous routine is broken by recreation; Robbins Hall has its own television set to view after a hard day.

And of course you will find coffee and conversation with any gathering of girls.

FRANK CAMP
Head Coach

WON 9

Well within the memory of U. of L. fans, the most pressing question was not merely one of winning, but rather of simply continuing in inter-collegiate competition. But in order to carry both of these out Coach Frank Camp was faced with a tremendous rebuilding job. Evidence of the fruits of his efforts were reflected in the success of recent seasons, but 1957 was the climax. The team breezed through eight opposing teams and lost only to Kent State in a windstorm. The Cards simply outclassed their opponents with almost ridiculous ease. Leonard Lyles became the star of the team as he led the nation in scoring and was named to the first-string Little All-America. Cain, Cheppo, Porco, Sturzel, and Young also starred for the Cards.

Camp's boys topped the season off with a big victory over Drake in the El Paso Sun Bowl. Ken Porco and Petey Bryant sparked the Cards to national attention in this one. Almost anything will be anti-climatical after this year. The city of Louisville is justly proud of its gridders.

Coaches

Although Coach Hickman's boys finished with a won-lost record which wasn't the best of Peck's tenure, they certainly continued in the tradition of fine Cardinal teams. The boys always gave 100% effort, the usual attribute of Hickman teams. The team showed its spark in big wins over Alabama, Notre Dame, St. Louis, Xavier, and even in their second loss to Dayton. Gerry Dupont took over as the big man of the team, improving in every game and showing flashes of brilliance toward the end of the season. The team itself was hampered to some extent by injuries, but no excuses need be made for the Card showing.

Coach Dromo had another successful year with the Freshmen, nailing down a 14-2 record. With Coach Dromo success is taken in stride and perfection is a standard.

Barbershop Quartets

Barbershop is sponsored by the University Student Senate and is competition between the student groups in barbershop singing. Each organization can enter as many quartets as desired. Colorful costumes and cappella arrangements help to carry through old barbershop traditions.

Pi Beta Phi's quartet, composed of Janet Altic, Helen Stinchcomb, Mariam Roe and Carole Caudill, won the women's division with "San" and "Making Love Ukulele Style."

Phi Chi's winning quartet, combining the efforts of William Richard Green, Charles Hood, LeRoy Henry and Neville Caudill, sang "Old Joe."

Chi Omega won first with "Three Blind Mice."

Fryberger

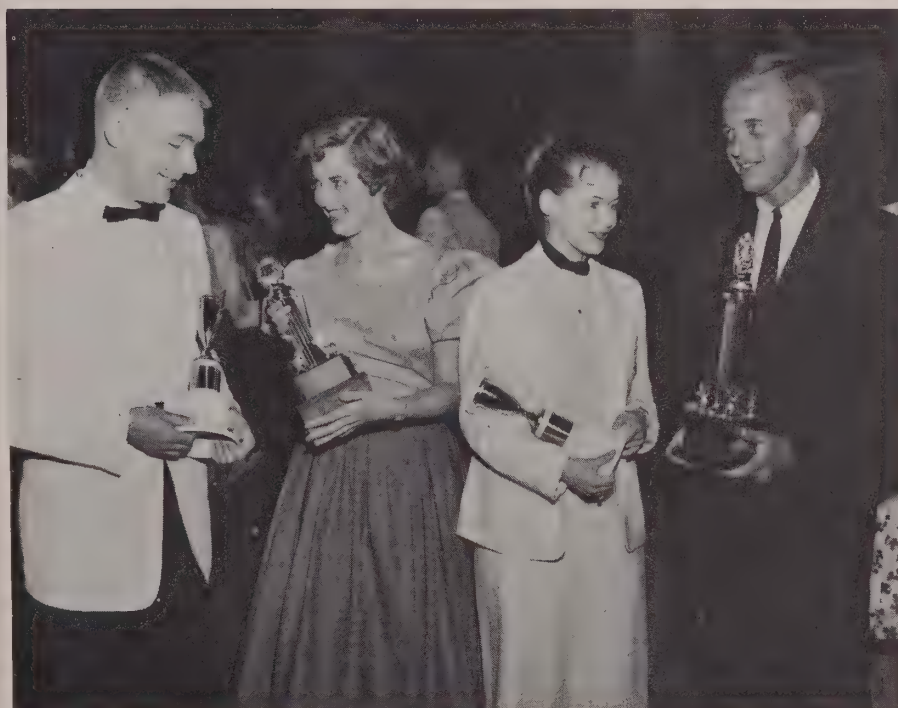

Fryberger Sing is the annual song competition open to all men's and women's organizations on campus. The groups are scored by judges on the basis of originality, tone quality, and diction. The best men's and women's groups are awarded trophies. The night, named in honor of Mrs. Agnes Fryberger, a former music teacher at the University, is also the time for tapping for the honoraries.

First Place in the men's division went to Phi Chi for "Wagon Wheels."

Sigma Kappa came in second singing "Oh Rise, Shine".

To tell me whatsoever I demand,
To slay mine enemies and aid my friends,
And always be obedient to my will.

DENTAL SCHOOL

1958

The School of Dentistry was organized in 1886 as the Louisville College of Dentistry and was affiliated with Central University of Richmond, Kentucky. In 1918, the School of Dentistry was reorganized as a school of the University. It is well known throughout the nation for its selection of curriculum and the maintenance of its modern clinic and laboratories. The school is located at Brook and Broadway. It is fully accredited by the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association.

Dr. Meyers has been a member of the University of Louisville faculty since his graduation in 1926. In 1945 he was elevated to the position of Dean. He holds membership in innumerable honorary organizations. Perhaps his most outstanding contribution to his profession, other than serving as Dean of our Dental School, is his extensive work in gold casting.

RAYMOND E. MEYERS
Dean

For his outstanding ability, sincere interest and complete understanding of his students, the Dental School Senior Class of 1958 is proud to dedicate their portion of the yearbook to

GRADUATE SCHOOL

1958

The Graduate School of the University of Louisville was established in 1907. The degrees of M.A. and M.S. have been given continuously since 1908. Since 1936 the Graduate School has been associated with the Conference of Dean's of Southern Graduate Schools of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. In 1951 the board of Trustees authorized the initiation of the schools first program leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. Beginning with the 1951-1952 session, graduate work leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy has been offered by the Department of Chemistry of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Several departments of the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Dentistry, the Speed Scientific School, the School of Medicine, the School of Music, and the Raymond A. Kent School of Social Work offer courses acceptable for graduate credit. The departments in which majors for the Master's degree may be taken are: Anatomy, Biology, Chemical Engineering, Chemistry, Civil Engineering, Economics and Commerce, Education, Electrical Engineering, English, Fine Arts, Histology and Embryology, History, Mathematics, Mechanical Engineering, Microbiology, Oral Medicine, Pathology, Physics, Physiology, Pharmacology, Psychology, Public Health, Social Work, and Sociology. The Department of Chemistry is authorized to offer a Ph.D. degree. Another department that just recently started to grant Ph.D. degrees is the Department of Chemical Engineering.

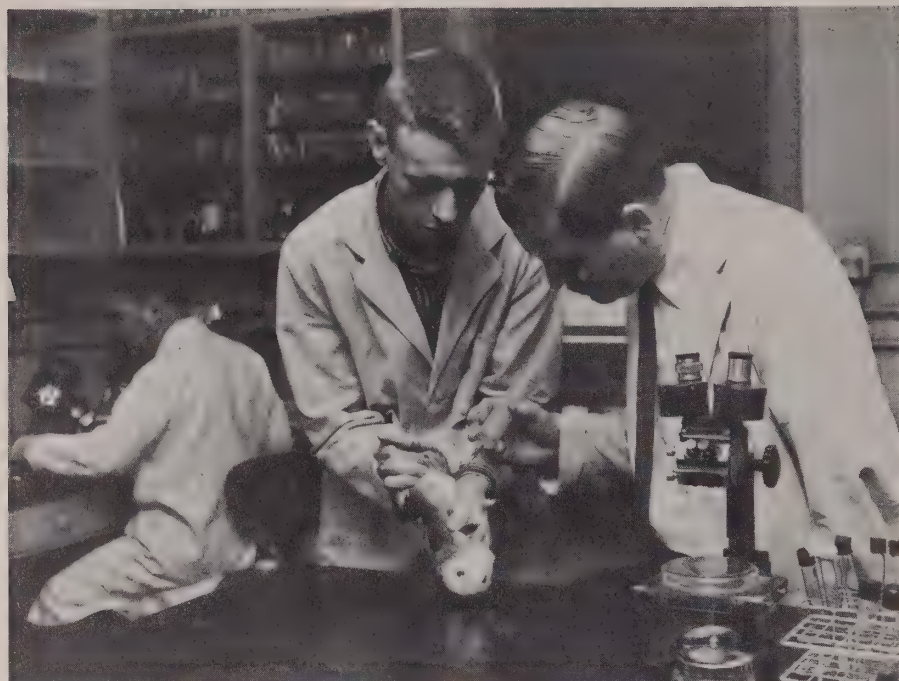

GUY STEVENSON

HELEN BOSSHART
Secretary

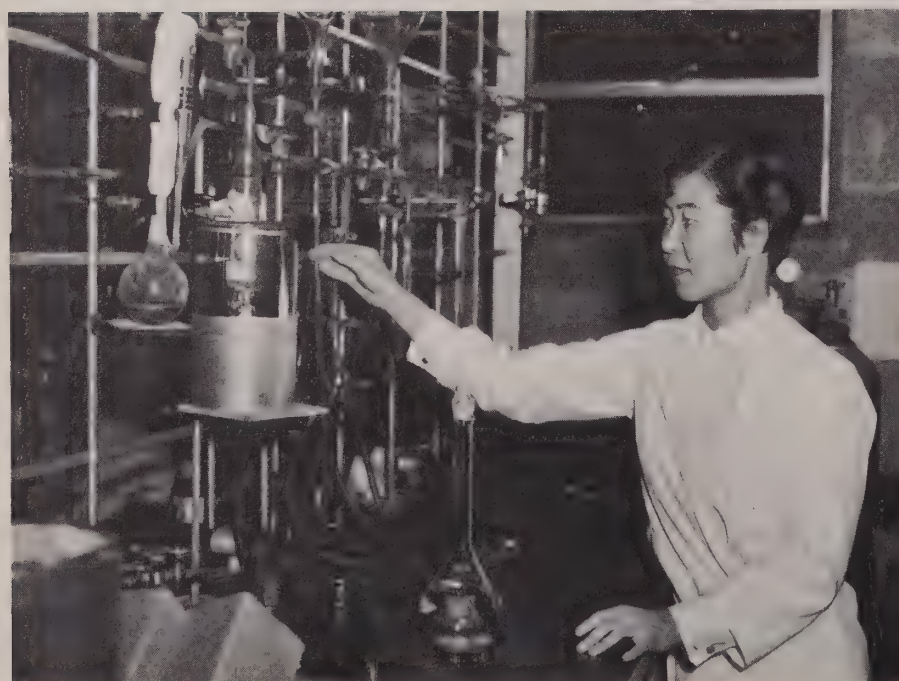

Dean Stevenson received his A.B. from Georgetown College and his A.M. and Ph.D. degrees from Illinois University. Dean Stevenson has been teaching mathematics at the University of Louisville since 1936. He was appointed acting Dean of the college of Arts and Sciences from 1950 to 1952. Since that time he has been the Dean of Graduate School.

KENT SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

1958

The Raymond A. Kent School of Social Work is a professional school offering graduate preparation in the fields of social welfare. The professional work of the School includes a program of classroom courses, research, and field work. The school, established under the name of Graduate Division of Social Administration in 1937, was an outgrowth of the Department of Sociology within the University. In 1914, the name was changed to memorialize the late president of the University, Dr. Raymond A. Kent.

Students graduated work in a wide variety of settings as a professional person engaged in social diagnosis and social treatment. The method employed varies from work with individual client, to groups, to agencies, and communities. The settings include public assistance, medical, psychiatric guidance, correction, rehabilitation and research. In the profession of social work the minimum qualifying degree is the Master of Science in Social Work.

MEDICAL SCHOOL

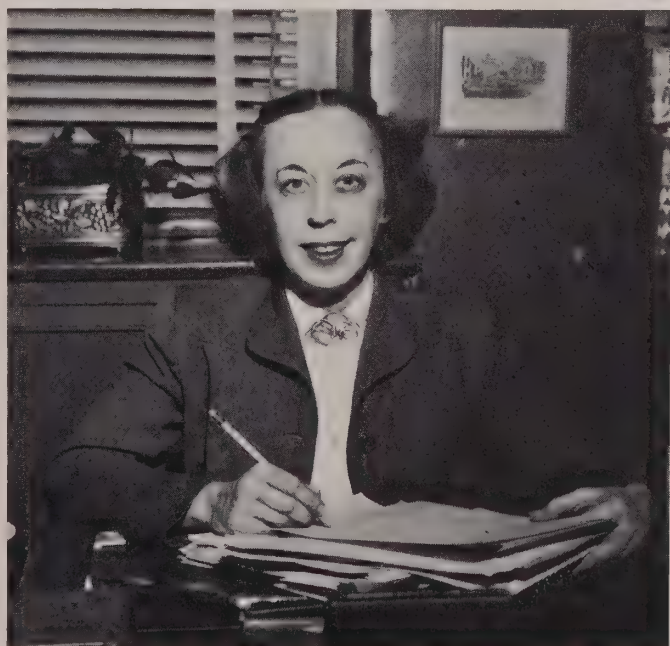

1958

The School of Medicine, founded October 23, 1837, observes with pride the achievements of its alumni, its contributions to medical progress and its record of community and national service. The degree of Doctor of Medicine conferred by the University of Louisville is recognized by every State Board in the U.S. for both licensure examinations and reciprocity, and also for licensure examination by the National Examining Board and by the British Conjoint Board.

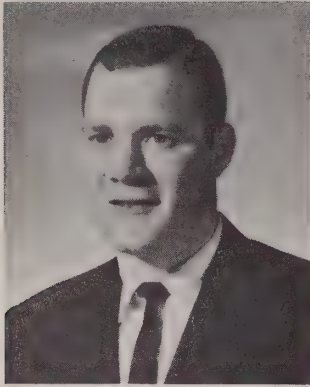

J. MURRAY KINSMAN, M.D.
Dean

Dr. Kinsman received his M.D. degree from McGill University in 1922. He first came to Louisville in 1925 as a Resident in Medicine and was appointed to the faculty of the School of Medicine in 1926 as an Instructor in Medicine. In 1949 he assumed his present position as Dean of the Medical School. Dr. Kinsman is a member of many national professional organizations, holding high office in several. Most notable recent appointment was as President of the newly formed Educational Council for Foreign Medical Graduates.

Alpha Omega

Alpha

Alpha Omega Alpha, the national honorary scholarship society in medicine, elects each year juniors and seniors who are outstanding in scholarship and character. Its purpose is to encourage personal honesty and the spirit of medical research. As a non-secret, college medical honorary society, it was organized at the College of Medicine at the University of Illinois, Chicago, August 25, 1902, and is the only order of its kind in medical schools on this continent. There are forty-one active chapters in Canada and the United States.

MUSIC SCHOOL

1958

Founded in 1932, the University of Louisville School of Music has been located in a setting of fourteen beautiful acres of lawns and gardens in Cherokee Park since 1947.

Gardencourt has established many annual traditions, such as the Contemporary Music Festival, the annual program of music, and an outstanding Opera Workshop, a part of the Kentucky Opera Association.

Many students and faculty play in the widely renowned Louisville Orchestra. The campus is frequented by composers and performers of great musical renown. They speak to the student body, hear their compositions and performances and enjoy with them the work that is so musically inspirational in this setting.

Kentucky Opera Association

The Kentucky Opera Association is a merger of the School of Music Opera Department with a governing board of Louisville citizens. It presents several operas a season in addition to television broadcasts.

The untiring efforts of Moritz Bomhard, the Director, contribute much to the success of the productions.

Moritz Bomhard, Director of the Kentucky Opera Association, directs the chorus of "Don Giovanni" in dance steps. Productions in the 1957-58 season include: "La Traviata," "Don Giovanni," and "Die Fledermaus."

SPEED SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL

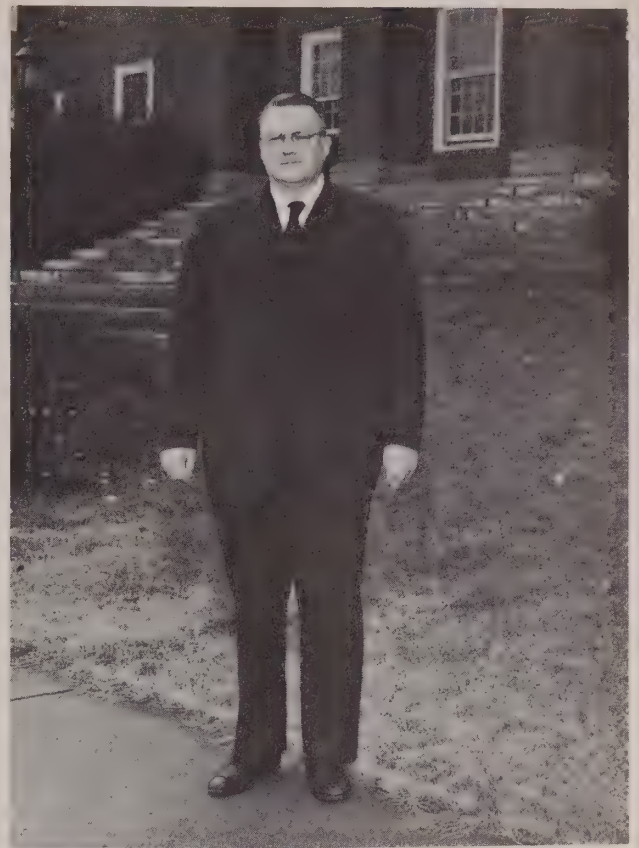

1958

Motivated by a desire to have an engineering school in Louisville, William S. Speed and his sister, Mrs. Frederick M. Sackett, by giving gifts to the University, founded Speed Scientific School in 1925.

The school has progressed to a position among the top engineering schools in the country. With the addition this year of the new Electrical and Civil Engineering building, the school has quite modern instructional facilities where both bachelor and master degrees may be acquired in Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering.

Isn't 10 pounds a little heavy for that scale, Charlie?

Oh what's the use? We won't get any new roads in Louisville anyway.

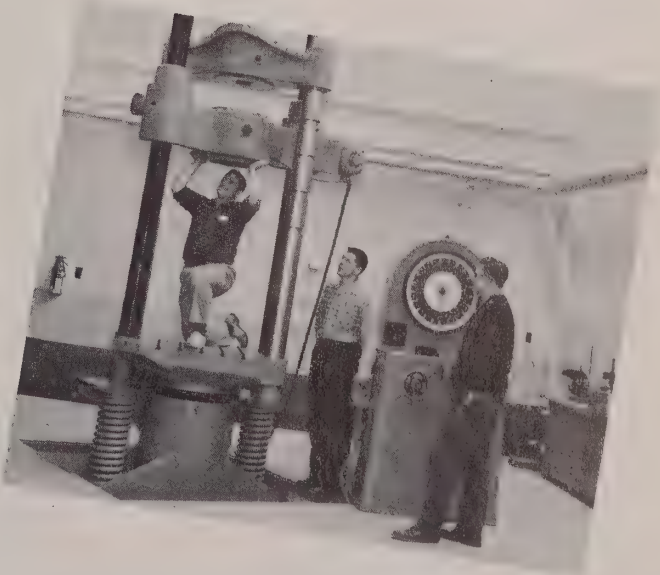

Hmm, you put 10 horsepower in and get 20 horsepower out; that's a pretty good motor.

You say your military obligation is fulfilled, that is, an automatic 20% raise and . . .

Watch out for Paul; he pushes a wicked slide rule.

Hurry up, Len, this thing is getting heavy.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

As an integral part of the University's educational program, developed in response to the actual needs of the Louisville community, the University College enables employed people to take those college courses which will be of particular help or interest to them. The Division's courses are fully accredited and may be applied toward the various degrees and certificates the University confers. Its staff of instructors is made up of qualified businessmen brought to the campus to teach technical or specialized subjects in their various fields.
